

U.S. Cited by Jury for Illegal Ole Miss Action

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—The Lafayette County grand jury today cited the federal government for illegal and agitating action in the University of Mississippi integration case. But it commended U.S. marshals for not firing pistols directly into rioting crowds.

Dist. Atty. Jesse Yancey Jr. read the 23-man jury's report which included evidence taken from 19 witnesses and several reports. Three true bills were returned shortly before the report was read but court officials would not confirm nor deny they were involved in the Ole Miss case.

Jury members said the federal government did not allow university officials proper notice before bringing James H. Meredith onto the campus Sept. 30, the first known Negro to attend the university.

The jury's report said the Justice Department had been notified they could not register Meredith on Sunday.

"Despite this, federal marshals were placed around the Lyceum Building for no apparent reason and this action, without a doubt, served no useful purpose," the report said.

The grand jury has been probing the fatal shooting of two men during the Sept. 30 rioting at Ole Miss after a Negro student was placed on the campus by federal marshals.

The panel has before it an FBI report on ballistic tests of the weapons of federal officers who were targets of rioters. The FBI said in Washington Thursday its tests of 450 guns failed to turn up the weapons with which the two men were killed.

Criminal contempt action against Gov. Ross R. Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson was ordered Thursday by the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans.

The Justice Department said in Washington its next step in the contempt proceedings would be determined by the detailed instructions of the court order, which it has not yet received.

Barnett and Johnson have already been convicted of civil contempt, although no decision has been made on penalties for their part in attempting to block the enrollment of James H. Meredith at Ole Miss.

Barnett faces the possibility of jail and daily fines of $10,000, and Johnson a daily $5,000 fine until such time as the court deems they have purged themselves.

Criminal contempt is punishment for past violations of a court order. Civil contempt is intended to force compliance with an order. In civil contempt, penalties can continue until compliance is achieved.

JFK to Review Cuban Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, says it's almost certain President Kennedy will hold a news conference next week and review the Cuban crisis.

Kennedy's last session with newsmen was Sept. 13. One scheduled for two weeks ago was cancelled because Cuban developments were still up in the air.

Study Week Carried Out by Guild

Members of Wesleyan Service Guild 2 at the First Methodist Church have studied "Today's Children for Tomorrow's World" each evening Monday through Thursday this week under the capable guidance of several local people.

After a call to worship by Guild President Mrs. Chris Petre, Earl Downs, Guidance Counselor at Hope High, spoke on Monday night on "The Responsibility of the Family in a World of Confusion." He told the group that "our needs are deep," and stressed the family's responsibility of teaching self-discipline. "There is a fear of conflict in our world of confusion," he said, "and to meet our social and economic problems we should seek divine guidance." Miss Mary Louise Copeland voiced the closing prayer.

On Tuesday evening two speakers followed the devotion presented by Mrs. Hinton Davis. First, Miss Kaye Leimbacker gave a beautiful reading, "Today's Child," the illustration of it by Miss Mary Louise Copeland and Mrs. Chris Petre. Municipal Judge John Wilson spoke to the guild members on the topic, "The Meaning of Christian Faith in a World of Confusion." According to the speaker, "We don't find God; he finds us." Mrs. H. O. Kyles, guild co-ordinator, closed with prayer.

Royce Weisenberger, District Prosecuting Attorney, conducted the third in the series of studies, "Our Responsible Living in a Confused World." From his experiences in the courtroom, the speaker shed a great deal of light on the situation of crime and punishment among juveniles.

"There is no such thing as security in every-day life or religion, and we must invest in both in every-day life or religion, and we must invest in both in order to grow. Our religion should be the praying kind and the working kind," he concluded.

The fourth session on Thursday night concerned the "Responsibility of the Community in a World of Confusion." An opening scripture and prayer were given by Mrs. Chris Petre. Two guests, Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr. and Mrs. Rufus Sorrells, representing the WSCS, were the leaders in a discussion which gave the audience insight into local recreational and educational aspects and opportunities for young people.

Young said there are almost 200 adult workers with the youth of Hope, not including church workers. "If you don't have time to teach youth the right things, someone will have time to teach them the wrong things," she quoted.

After each talk, discussion of the subject was held and questions asked, all of which proved informative and helpful. Refreshments were served each night and there was an average attendance of 13.

Temperatures will drop during the weekend but rise again about midweek. The normal high for the week is 55-60 degrees. The normal low ranges between 30 and 40 degrees.

Strong southerly winds Thursday drove temperatures to the mid 70s in the south and into the upper 60s in the northern sections of the state. Morrilton had the highest temperature reading — a 73.

The lowest temperature reading reported in the state today was 56 degrees at Little Rock.

Chinese Launch Massive Attack Against India

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Chinese Communists have launched a massive attack on Indian troops at the east end of the Himalayas and fierce fighting is now going on, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

The Chinese attack on Indian positions near Walong followed an Indian attack that captured some Chinese outposts, the spokesman said. After restricted fighting in one area which began Wednesday, the Red Chinese attacked on a massive scale north and west of Walong, he said.

Chinese troops are attacking in considerably superior numbers, the spokesman said. No other action was reported on the Himalayan battle front. The Walong attack was the first major fighting since the offensive into India ground to a temporary halt three weeks ago after capture of some 2,500 square miles.

The spokesman said the Red Chinese around Walong had not advanced when last reports came in shortly before he talked to reporters.

The Chinese attack was triggered, he said, by a new Indian army policy of probing Red Chinese lines in an effort to keep them from consolidating their positions. This policy is also now being followed near Towang, where the other major thrust by the Chinese has penetrated into northeastern India.

The Walong thrust, 15 miles west of the Burma border, is potentially one of the most dangerous of 13 Red Chinese penetrations into India.

Walong lies in the valley of the Lohit River that forms a natural highway down through the mountains to the densely populated plains of upper Assam State.

Indian troops attacked Red Chinese positions a few miles northwest of Walong in the jumbled slopes of the lower Himalayas. A spokesman said "our troops were able to occupy the forward slopes of the Chinese position in spite of heavy enemy fire."

The Indian attacks came after four weeks of retreat. They were not in the nature of a full-scale offensive. That lies in the future, when American, British and other foreign weapons, plus increased arms production at home, have built up Indian strength.

Farm-City Week to Be Observed

Hope Kiwanis club will join other clubs throughout the nation next week in observance of Farm-City Week.

A special luncheon program will be held at noon Tuesday at Hotel Barlow, and each member is expected to have a farm guest. Hope County's Farm Family of the Year, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Purdie, will be honored guests, along with the Robert Cash, champion 4-H boy, and Miss Jennie Lee Water, champion 4-H club girl.

Other outstanding farmers and farm officials of this area will be in attendance. Principal speaker will be Jack Dillard, farm director of radio station KWKH, Shreveport.

Mayor Frank Douglas has announced a holiday against parking meters, which has been the custom in past years as farmers and city friends get together for this annual event.

Purpose of the nation-wide observance is the creation of closer relationship between farm and city families, and to develop a better understanding of mutual problems.

Harry Hawthorne, charter member of the Hope Kiwanis club, is in charge of Tuesday's program.

Swift Co. Takes Over State Plant

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP)—Swift & Co., a nationwide distributor of dressed poultry, announced Thursday it would begin operations early in 1963 at a poultry processing plant and hatchery in Clarksville, Ark.

The equipment in the plant, formerly operated by now defunct Priebe & Son, Inc., recently was released from government control under receivership proceedings in a federal court in Chicago.

Harry S. Ash, receiver for the bankrupt Priebe firm, approved sale of plant equipment to R. Y. Fulbright of Clarksville, who already owned the land and building used by the Priebe firm.

Fulbright, a cousin of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., bought the equipment for $62,500 and an agreement to withdraw a $30,000 claim for damages against Priebe assets.

Swift declined discussion of its arrangement with Fulbright and said no details have been settled as to the number of personnel to be employed or the makeup of management at Clarksville.

The plant formerly employed about 300 persons.

With a mighty roar of its eight engines, a Saturn superbooster blasted off today on the third test flight of this forerunner to a manned moon rocket.

The monster Saturn, 162 feet tall and weighing 550 tons, blasted aloft at 12:45 p.m. on the tremendous force generated by the world's largest known rocket power plant.

For the first time the booster stage was fully fueled, to build up thrust of 1.3 million pounds, equal to 30 million horsepower.

Ten seconds passed before the Saturn cleared the top of its 310-foot-tall service tower. Then the rocket pitched gradually over on a southeast heading, picking up speed as the tons of fuel were quickly consumed.

A tail of fire nearly 300 feet long trailed the rocket as it sped upward into the clear sky.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Warrior Construction Co. of Houston, Tex., submitted a base bid of $4,287,000 Thursday on a contract to build the main State Hospital building at Little Rock.

The base bid and an alternate bid of $4,915,000 were lower than bids by five other competitors for construction of a 432-bed intensive treatment and administration building at the Little Rock unit.

The alternate bids call for more interior finishes and equipment.

State Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott, chairman of the State Hospital Board of Control, said the board would meet Saturday to award the contract. He said the board had estimated cost of construction at $4.7 million, but had about $6 million available for construction and equipment.

Work is to begin 10 days after the contract is awarded. Construction is expected to require two years.

Will Shoot Down All U.S. Aircraft Over Cuba, Castro Vows

UN Publishes Blunt Warning From Castro

By MAX HARRISON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations today published a blunt warning from Prime Minister Fidel Castro that any U.S. plane flying over Cuban territory "can only do so at the risk of being destroyed."

The sharply worded communication, handed to Acting Secretary-General U Thant Thursday, suggests that if the United States sincerely wants to negotiate a settlement of the Cuban crisis "it should begin by respecting the elementary rights of our country."

Castro repeated his earlier declarations that he would accept no inspection of Cuban territory by any group "national or international." In any event, he said, the United States already has verified the removal of Soviet missiles from Cuba and the "pretext has now disappeared" for acts of force.

He called the U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba "typically Hitlerite methods for softening the resistance of peoples."

"No sovereign state," Castro declared, "can allow its air space to be violated in this manner without feeling an impairment of its dignity."

That gave the contents of the letter to U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson shortly after he received it, but withheld publication of the text at the request of Cuban Ambassador Carlos Lechuga.

Some diplomats viewed Castro's warning as a new attempt to pressure the United States into agreeing to the five demands the Cuban prime minister made Oct. 28. The demands included an end to U.S. violation of Cuban air space as well as U.S. withdrawal from the Guantanamo Naval Base.

The U. S. Defense Department made plain it would continue air surveillance of Cuba as long as it was considered necessary and would take whatever measures were deemed essential to protect its fliers.

No attacks on U. S. reconnaissance planes over Cuba have been officially reported since a U2 piloted by Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr. disappeared on Oct. 27. The Cubans later returned Anderson's body to the United States and published pictures of the wreckage of the U2. Some experts believe Anderson was shot down by a Soviet-built anti-aircraft missile.

Informants in Havana said Castro still stood by his five demands after winding up his lengthy series of talks with Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, but that he had adopted a "more flexible" position toward U.S. demands for inspection to insure compliance with the Soviet pledge to remove offensive weapons from Cuba.

The sources said Castro had agreed in principle to make his points a separate issue rather than push them in the face of the U.S. demand for on-site inspection.

Hempstead in Emergency Loan Area

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state office of the Farmers Home Administration said Thursday 28 Arkansas counties have been designated for emergency loans by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman because of adverse weather conditions this year.

Jodie Anderson, acting state director, said loans would be granted primarily for crop production purposes and would carry a three per cent interest rate. They are payable in one year. Normal FHA rates are five per cent.

To be eligible, farmers must show they do not have sufficient credit to obtain a loan from a commercial lending agency. They have until June 30, 1963, to apply at their county FHA offices.

The designation brings to 52 the number of Arkansas counties eligible for emergency loans to farmers. The FHA said dry weather in May, wet weather in June and dry weather in August made farming operations difficult this year.

The new counties designated are Ashley, Clifton, Clay, Cleveland, Columbia, Crittenden, Cross, Dallas, Desha, Drew, Greene, Hempstead, Jackson, Jefferson, Lee, Lincoln, Little River, Mississippi, Monroe, Ouachita, Phillips, Poinsett, Pulaski, Scott, St. Francis, Union, Van Buren and Yell.

Counties designated previously were Baxter, Boone, Bradley, Calhoun, Cleburne, Conway, Craighead, Faulkner, Fulton, Garland, Independence, Izard, Lawrence, Lonoke, Marion, Miller, Montgomery, Perry, Polk, Prairie, Randolph, Searcy, Sharp and Stone.

Threat Poses New Danger in Cuban Crisis

By JOHN M. NIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said today the Cuban crisis may be approaching a peak of extreme danger. In any case, they are now convinced that a climactic period opening in the next few days should bring developments of the utmost importance.

They gave that assessment after making clear that the United States will use force if necessary to protect its reconnaissance planes flying over Cuba, in the face of a new threat by Fidel Castro to shoot them down.

The force was not specified, but U.S. fighter planes would be almost sure to meet any direct challenge by the MIG fighters the Soviet Union has based in Cuba.

Anti-aircraft missile fire presumably would require a decision by the President whether to attack missile bases and put them out of action.

Castro warned in a note to the United Nations that any U.S. warplanes which "violate our air space" would risk destruction by Cuban anti-aircraft. Presumably he referred to anti-aircraft missiles recently installed in Cuba by the Soviet Union.

Officials said that U.S.-Soviet negotiations could still lead to a peaceful settlement.

Those negotiations, conducted in part by President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev personally, are concerned with removal of Soviet jet bombers from Cuba and with Khrushchev's unfulfilled promise to arrange for verification of the withdrawal of offensive weapons from the Caribbean island.

Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan has been in Havana negotiating with Castro for two weeks. He was expected to leave for home today, flying by way of New York as he would meet U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and other U.S. negotiators.

Officials here say they have a real idea what Mikoyan accomplished with Castro toward fulfillment of Khrushchev's promises to get all offensive weapons out of Cuba under a U.N. verification system.

Castro's belligerent assertion could have either of two purposes, as officials here understood them. He could be striking a strong public pose to cover up concessions to Mikoyan on the international inspection issue. Or he could be intent on forcing a fight with the United States.

Kennedy has announced that aerial surveillance and the naval arms blockade will be continued until other means of verification are provided.

The Defense Department said last month, after the Cubans fired on a U.S. plane, that the United States had a mandate from the Organization of American States to keep the Communist military threat in Cuba under constant surveillance. It said it intended to do so, and that if the Cubans attacked American aircraft the United States would take "counter action."

Kennedy himself turned his major attention back to the Cuban crisis today as it entered a climactic stage while West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who was here for talks Wednesday and Thursday, turned homeward.

Kennedy and Adenauer agreed that while the Cuban dispute continues in a critical stage there is no occasion for new Western initiatives on Berlin or any other major world issues in serious dispute with the Soviet Union.

At the same time their final

THE EYES HAVE IT—Are all those haunted faces following you? It depends on your point of view. Imagine you are inside an overhead valve, straight-8 engine, looking up at the combustion chamber side of the engine head. The eye sockets are valve seats, the noses spark plug openings. There is only one engine head (two of its cylinders are not shown), but its picture is duplicated here six times. Picture appeared in the Sun Oil Co. magazine, "Our Sun." And just for fun, one engine head was turned upside down.

Sponsor Asks Cancellation of Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The head of the Schick Safety Razor Co., angered by a television show on which Alger Hiss appeared as a critic of Richard M. Nixon, wants to cancel its million-dollar advertising contract with ABC-TV.

The wire said in part:
"We are shocked at the extreme poor taste and judgment shown by the ABC network in presenting a convicted perjurer involved in the passing of United States secrets to the Communists as a critic of a former vice president of the United States."

In a return telegram, Francis said: "We value our relationship with you and your company, and, of course, we regret that you feel as strongly as you do about that broadcast. However, we cannot grant your request."

Asked why Schick would not be permitted to cancel, Francis said: "We're just being good businessmen."

A Schick spokesman said his company had contracted with ABC to sponsor parts of two shows—"Combat" and "Stony Burke"—starting the first of next year. The spokesman said the contract called for an expenditure of more than a million dollars.

Francis said Schick was the only advertiser to complain about the program, which was shown nationally last Sunday night. Frawley has backed various anti-Communist functions, including

He Finally Hit That Sand Bar

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Robert Harris of Arcata, Humboldt County, telephoned police: "Help! My husband is floating down the river in his car."

A few minutes later, she called back:
"That's all right. Forget my call. He's OK. He's hung up on a sandbar."

Police said Harris tried to ford Mad River Monday in his bus-type foreign car. In midstream the current caught the water-tight auto and it was launched.

when the auto struck the sandbar, Harris climbed out on the sun roof and waited for a tow truck to arrive.

Dr. Fred Schwartz' school of anti-communism.

The television program was called "The Political Obituary of Richard Nixon" and was moderated by Howard K. Smith. Hiss, whose conviction followed a congressional investigation in which Nixon participated, was one of several persons who expressed opinions of Nixon on the program.

Would Like to Rip Out Loud Speaker

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"I would like to rip all the loud speakers out of banks, elevators, and airplanes," said Skitch Henderson, normally a mild-mannered gentle man. "Because they pipe in music which, nine times out of 10, is mediocre music, poorly reproduced."

"But more than that, these large masses of mechanical music change people's relationship to music. It ceases to be an aesthetic form and becomes functional—like a sidewalk."

Next month Henderson will observe his 1,500th appearance on television. "It will come as musical director" on NBC's "Tonight Show," the network on which he started more than 14 years ago.

Henderson's nightly chores are a bit of approved network moonlighting. His primary employment is network music director. This means he composes and arranges music for other shows, including documentaries and "specials." He often takes busman's holidays, too, directing orchestras and soon will reconstitute the NBC symphony for a special children's Christmas concert on "Discovery."

The program Howard K. Smith bumped last Sunday to make room for his continued political obituary of Richard M. Nixon will be shown on ABC on Nov. 18. Called "America's Fighting Men," it is a look at the nation's new, mobile striking force.

Some television stars develop profitable side lines making record albums, buying motels and raising beef cattle. But Bill Dana and Jayne Meadows will be doing it the hard way. They've signed on as guides for a pair of airplane conducted tours to South America this winter. Miss Meadows is the co-owner of a Beverly Hills travel agency.

Fulbright to Head Delegation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., will head the United States delegation attending the NATO Parliamentary Conference in Paris. He left for that city Wednesday by plane. Fulbright will remain in Paris through Nov. 16. He then goes to Bonn, Germany, where he will speak Nov. 19 at Bonn University ceremonies marking the 10th anniversary of the Fulbright Student Exchange Program. The program of the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee also calls for a talk Nov. 20 at Rome and an appearance Nov. 23 at the University of Naples to receive an honorary degree.

'63 Chevrolet Trucks

THEY'VE ALWAYS BEEN TOUGH BUT NEVER STRONGER THAN NOW!

You can be sure that new engines, frames, suspensions that licked Mexico's Baja* Run will work for you long, faithfully and at traditionally low Chevrolet cost.

A Chevrolet truck has always been a sound investment because of its quality construction. This is what makes it give you an honest day's work every day at very low cost and—when you are finished with it—return more resale money to your happy pocket.

This year stronger frames, engines that can pull more, and practically tailor-made suspension systems make Chevrolet trucks a better buy than ever. If you're in the market now, we'd welcome the chance to tell you about, and let you drive, the new trucks. Just give us a call.

There was no word of any agreement on U.S. demands that the Soviet Union withdraw the two dozen or so jet bombers it sent to Cuba. The United States contends they are offensive weapons capable of carrying nuclear war heads.

DOROTHY DIX

UN Has Nothing on This Pairs Parley

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am a widower of 74 going with a widow who is 68. I've been alone 14 years, she nine. We began dating in 1961.

She confesses to liking me — I certainly think a lot of her. I am worth around $130,000 with an annual income of $7,000. She is worth about $40,000 and has a yearly income of $2,400. She is childless but has two sisters and a brother who, though well-off, appear to be waiting till she dies.

We both own nice homes but she would prefer, if we marry, to live in hers. Should we do so, I would spend about $3,000 on repairs and alterations.

I don't want a cent of her estate, nor do I intend that her relatives get mine. So what do you think of our drawing up a contract, stating that if she passes away first, I would receive only what monies I spent on her property.

If I go first, she gets the use of my money as long as she lives. Upon her death, it reverts to my descendants.

I have a son and daughter and three grandchildren. They are all well taken care of. She loves them and they help. Should she ever need help, I am sure they would never let her want.

Neither of us drink, smoke or swear; we are of the same religious faith and share the same political views. We both had wonderful mates — my wife was everything a man could desire and she says the same about her husband.

Could we care enough for one another not to draw comparisons between the past and present? I still love my wife and I know she still loves her husband. I wouldn't care for her if she didn't. Could ours be the same lasting love? — D. X. S.

Dear D.: We never love twice in the same way. Different people bring out different aspects of our character, but this does not mean that a second love cannot be just as strong as a first. I married twice and love my present husband quite as much as the first, but in a different way. If anything, our love deepens with the years: so if you and the nice widow are happy with one another now, I wouldn't worry too much about the future.

Whether or not your love is lasting depends largely upon yourselves. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Ten Rules to Help Oldsters Stay Young."

As for the financial end, get a competent lawyer to draw up your wills or a contract. Do that before the time of marriage.

Dear Helen: I am a young woman of 28. I recently met a young man of 20 who has been dating me ever since.

His parents, though polite, are cool. At first I wondered why. Now I know. My boy friend was engaged to a girl two years his junior whom his parents loved dearly. He broke with her when he met me though still sees her occasionally. His father and mother think the world of him.

I was engaged to a man in my European homeland but, since my coming to this country, we ceased to write. I like my new boy friend, young though he is; but in view of the surrounding circumstance, should I find somebody nearer my own age? — Deb

Dear Deb: Age certainly should count in this situation. You are old enough to know better. The boy is far too young and, what's more, probably still cares for the girl to whom he was engaged; else he would not continue to see her. For your own happiness and his, find some man nearer your own age.

Dear Helen: From the time I was 8 years old my parents made me abstain from sugar of any kind because of my teeth. Result? I sneaked candy the way a drunkard does alcohol. When my Mom asked me if I had eaten any, I lied.

Friends sent my little sister a box of fancy chocolate cakes. I ate them. My sister didn't name me, just said she hadn't eaten the cakes and walked off. My parents were heartbroken to think I lied about this too. Now, no longer trusting me, they have banned all my dating. Help me find the words to say I'm sorry. — Confused Teen-ager

Dear Confused: If you are truly contrite, the words will come. But what you need is a doctor more than a counselor. This abnormal craving for sugar indicates a physical deficiency that could be serious. Once it is cleared up the moral brakes which govern your sense of right and wrong will probably start working again. Show your parents your letter and my reply.

My leaflet "Teen-age Code" might also be of help. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.

Spa Policeman Is Suspended

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Another Hot Springs policeman has been discharged by Chief Milford Sanders for "conduct unbecoming an officer and violation of rules and regulations of the department."

Wayne Miles, 26, a member of the force for two years was discharged Thursday after a meeting of the police department's efficiency board.

At least seven other policemen have been discharged over the past two years under similar circumstances.

Sanders said the misconduct charge involved an off-duty matter, but declined to elaborate. Miles could not be reached for comment.

The efficiency board is composed of Sanders and Lts. Joe Crain, Harold Roberts and Henry Hogg.

Jones Finds Putt Magic at Mobile

By STAN ATKINS

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—John Pat Jones, who found a magic putting touch, held a two-stroke lead today as play entered the second round of the $15,000 Mobile Open Golf Tournament.

Jones, a virtual unknown on the pro touring circuit, knocked in birdie puts ranging from 1 to 44 feet in Thursday's opening round. The 31-year-old Hinsdale, Ill., assistant pro carded a 33-32-63 over the par 36-36-72, 6,800-yard Mobile Municipal course.

Jones, a teaching pro, played in a few tournaments last year. He rejoined the pro tour a week ago for the Cajun Classic at Lafayette, La., and finished in a tie for 23rd, good for $150 in winnings.

A host of veteran pros and few new faces were grouped behind Jones.

They included Tony Lema, with a 67; and George Knudson, the Canadian; Don Cherry, the Wichita Falls, Tex., singer; amateur Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla.; and Jim Wright of Enid, Okla., all at 68.

Defending champion Gay Brewer Jr., Jim Ferree, Jon Guistin and Sam Carmichael were at 69. The 70-stroke contingent at 70 included such as businessman golfer Freddie Haas, Don Falkfield, Johnny Pot, Don Bisplinghoff and Tom Neipote, John Barnum, winner of the Cajun open.

Doug Sanders, Dave Ragan and Paul Harney were bunched with a dozen others at 71.

Magnolia Man Indicted by U.S.

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A Magnolia, Ark., businessman was arrested late Wednesday on a three-count federal Grand Jury indictment accusing him of defrauding the U.S. government.

Jack A. Moran, a partner in the Red Chain Feed Store at Magnolia, was taken to Texarkana by FBI agents, where he posted $1,000 bond.

The indictment against Moran was returned by the grand jury at Fort Smith on Nov. 8, but was not made public until his arrest Wednesday.

The indictment charges that Moran knowingly filed purchase on three separate occasions knowing that the claims were false and fraudulent.

The offenses occurred in April 1961, the indictment said, and involved purchase orders of $90 for delivery of 6,000 pounds of potash, $56.25 for delivery of desodized seed, and $178 for delivery of 200 pounds of bermuda grass seed.

The maximum penalty for such offense is $10,000 fine and five years in prison.

Legal Notice

The annual school election will be held by the qualified electors of the Palmetto School District No. 9 of Hempstead County on Tuesday, December 4, 1962, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. The electors will vote a school tax of 27 mills to be levied for general fund for the operation of schools of said district, for one board member to be elected for Post No. 1 for a period of five years, and for one member of County Board of Education from Zone No. 1 to serve for a period of five years.

The polling places in the district will be the same as heretofore designated.

18 Missing on Burning Ship at Sea

By BERNARD BROWN

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Rescue planes and ships searched the stormy Atlantic northeast of Bermuda today for 18 missing crewmen who abandoned the Greek freighter Captain George as flames ate their way toward a cargo of explosives.

Coast Guard messages said seven members of the 25-man crew were picked up by freighters standing by in the gale, but the other 18 were tossed into the 45-foot high waves when their lifeboat capsized. They disappeared in the darkness.

Coast Guard amphibians, flying in relays, dropped flares through the night in the vicinity of the still burning ship.

The amphibians reported the ship was still afloat late Thursday night.

The U. S. submarine Torsk took over the search from two Liberian-flag ships which picked up the seven survivors, the tanker Virginia and the freighter Trinity Navigator. The tanker and the freighter left the scene because of high seas and gale winds.

The Coast Guard cutter Mendota also was steaming toward the area.

The 18 missing crewmen were reported wearing life jackets and the water was a warm 72 degrees. But visibility was only about two miles.

As the search went on for survivors from the Captain George, another victim of the gale, the disabled 65-foot schooner Curlew capsized five miles outside Bermuda's St. George Harbor.

The six men aboard the two-master schooner were rescued by the U.S. Navy ship Compass Island which had escorted it from a point 90 miles north of Bermuda. One of the crew was reported to be dead.

Miss Stubblefield was prompt. Columbine drew the old lady into her private office and closed the door. Miss Stubblefield's delicate nostrils fluttered and she raised her brows inquiringly.

"A plague of skunks," Columbine said, nodding vigorously, "loosed upon us by a person called the Skunk Man."

"You suspect?"

"That he acted in behalf of Mr. Quentin," Columbine said.

"I," said Miss Stubblefield, "have been mulling over our conversation of yesterday. I have looked at it from all sides, considering your exigency, and, of course, my own advantage. Our family has had an inflexible rule, that we never sold a piece of land, once acquired."

"I believe," said Columbine, "that this rule no longer obtains."

Miss Stubblefield nodded in agreement. "No rule," she said, "can withstand the mutations of time. Do I understand that you are making me an offer for the 15 acres of land now under discussion?"

"I am prepared to do so," Columbine said. "I have made suitable inquiries. I believe, in the circumstances, that an offer of $5,000 an acre is fair. Perhaps somewhat above the current market."

"Mr. Quentin has asked me to set a price on that parcel of land. Do you think he would pay me $5,000?"

"I do," Columbine said. "Is it your opinion that he would pay more?"

"I believe he would do so." To Be Continued

Super-Rocket Saturn Test Is Ready

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Saturn superrocket, its booster stage fully fueled for the first time, was scheduled for its third test launching today.

The 162-foot, million-pound rocket, forerunner of a vehicle which will take American astronauts to the moon, was set to blast into the sky in midday under the tremendous power of eight engines pouring out 1.3 million pounds of thrust, equal to 30 million horsepower.

As on the two previous Saturn tests—both successful — only the first stage was to be fired, pushing the rocket on a brief 104-mile-high ballistic flight.

Two upper stages were loaded with 23,000 gallons of water to simulate the weight of the upper assembly on later Saturn rockets. Four minutes and 55 seconds after launching, at peak altitude, a radio signal from the ground was to blow the Saturn apart, dumping the 95 tons of water into the frigid ionosphere to form a giant cloud of ice particles.

Plane and ground-based cameras and other equipment were to study the cloud to seek clues on atmospheric physics.

Project officials reported major goals of Saturn flight No. 3 were to further evaluate the eight first stage engines with maximum fuel, verify structural integrity of the airframe; confirm aerodynamic characteristics and check launch facilities.

The big change was the full fuel load of 375 tons of high-powered kerosene and liquid oxygen. The first two Saturns, each fueled with 310 tons, burned 3 seconds less and reached a lower peak altitude than planned for the third vehicle.

One more tests of the first stage only is planned. The second stage will be flown for the first time on test No. 5, scheduled late next year. This rocket also will be the first in the series to build up full thrust of 1.5 million pounds in the first stage.

The sixth, and a few subsequent flights, will carry early models of the Apollo moon spacecraft into orbit. The first manned Apollo earth-orbit flight is set for Saturn launching No. 1.

have suffered broken ribs. The schooner was en route from Essex, Conn., to the Virgin Islands when it was disabled early Thursday.

The Curlew and her escort were unable to enter the harbor because of the storm. They were waiting for daylight when the schooner broke loose from her anchor and, turned over.

Later the Coast Guard reported that the Compass Island, an experimental navigational ship, left the scene on an undisclosed "military mission" and would land the survivors—five Americans and a Briton—in New York on Nov. 21.

Robert Gervasoni of Trenton, N.J., part owner of the Curlew, said those aboard were Sam Fiorello, 33, of Yardley, Pa., the other owner; Jim O'Neill, 32, a passenger from Massachusetts; and four deckhands, David Sikill or Skillon, London, England; "Spider" Slum and another man known as Bill, both of Borden-town, N.J., and another man from New Britain, Conn.

Mr. Farmer ARE YOUR DEBTS IN BALANCE?

Many farmers have their short-term debts completely out-of-balance with their long-term obligations. Good farm management requires that operating or short-term credit be kept in balance with capital or long-term credit. Proper balance enables orderly retirement of all obligations without repayment being a burden.

Thousands of farmers have found that a LAND BANK LOAN provides the key to a balanced debt load. It could well be the answer to your credit problem.

Visit us today. See how our services can be profitable to you. There is no obligation.

Bobcats Close Out the Home Season Tonight

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope Bobcats close their home season tonight as they take on the 7A Arkadelphia Badgers at eight o'clock. Revenge is the key word tonight since the powerful Bobcats distastefully remember the 30-0 stamping they received at Arkadelphia last year, which was the first loss suffered to the Badgers in many years.

The Bobcats may very well be on the top end of a 30-0 score tonight, since the inexperienced visitors have only four returning lettermen. However, as always the Badgers will put out their best team effort in this their final game of the season. 190-pound full-back, Paul Estes, the only returning starter, is the top gun for Arkadelphia. Estes and James Forthman, 195-pound tackle, are the heaviest of the team. Yet, the Arkadelphia backfield averaging 170 pounds is one of the heaviest in their district.

The only reason the Bobcats might be up for this game is revenge—revenge of last year's loss to Arkadelphia and revenge of last week's "loss" to Haynesville. Forces that might make the Cats down are that the season is getting old about now, this is not a district game, Arkadelphia has had a weak year, and Hope meets unbeaten Nashville next Thursday.

Arkadelphia could surprise tonight. Head Coach John Pierce is quite aware of this, and he is sending the Cats out in full force, physically that is. The mental part is up to the Bobcats. A strong turnout of Bobcat Boosters in this their last home game would be a great moral boost to the locals. Do your part in backing the Bobcats against Arkadelphia tonight and Nashville Thursday; see you there!

Porks to Try to Nail Down a Bowl Bid

By BILL SIMMONS

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—All-American nominee Billy Moore will try to nail down a bowl bid for Arkansas' Razorbacks and bolster his rushing and scoring leads in the Southwest Conference against Southern Methodist University here Saturday afternoon.

Moore, who has rushed for 485 yards and scored 66 points, will be making his final hometown appearance before a sell-out crowd of 41,000.

His scoring total is 30 points higher than his nearest rival's and Moore has rushed for 88 yards more than any other player in the league.

The fiery, 5-10, 7-pounder also has compiled the best passing percentage in the conference, connecting on 44 of 74 attempts for 594.

The Razorbacks have figured in Sugar Bowl talk, but probably must whip SMU and Texas Tech before getting a bid.

Coach Frank Broyles, whose team is ranked seventh in the nation, will be facing a former aide when the Ponies and the Porks collide at 2 p.m. (CST).

Hayden Fry, head coach at SMU, left Arkansas to take the job after a season with Broyles. That was in 1962, when Arkansas shared the conference title with Texas. It was the third straight year the Razorbacks had taken all or part of the conference crown.

Arkansas' drive for an unprecedented fourth-straight conference title got sidetracked by a 7-3 loss to the Longhorns earlier this season, but Razorback fans, who pridefully claim to be the most faithful anywhere, still have hope.

They remember the Texas-Texas Christian University game of a year ago, when rangy Sonny Gibbs hurled the touchdown pass that rocked Texas 6-0 and opened the door to Arkansas' third consecutive title.

The conference has a knack for surprising victories and Arkansas boosters will keep an eye on the Razorbacks and an ear to the goings-on in Fort Worth, Tex., Saturday.

Arkansas, which has been in a bowl game the last three years, played in the Sugar Bowl last season and lost to Alabama, 10-3. The Crimson Tide was the No. 1 team in the nation at the time.

Old Archie Hits Canvass in the Fourth

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer LOS ANGELES (AP)—Cassius Marcellus Clay, the Louisville kid who calls the round for a knock-out and makes it come true, most assuredly must be the crown prince of the heavyweight division in boxing today.

Twenty-year-old Cassius established himself as the heir apparent to the heavyweight throne Thursday night when in four rounds—the exact round he had predicted—he knocked out a game, a gallant and a gutsy old and outclassed Archie Moore.

Clay is unbeaten now in 14 straight fights as a professional and there is hardly anyone left in the depleted heavyweight section to fight except the champion himself, Sonny Liston.

But even William Faversham—Clay's chief manager, or the man most prominent in the syndicate of influential Louisville businessmen who own him—conceded they are in no hurry to tangle with the ominous Sonny.

And Moore's future? "Tears were in old Archie's eyes when he confronted newsmen in the dressing room after the fight. Was he through? Was this the end?"

"I don't know. It might just be," said the oldest man in boxing, who will never see birthday No. 45 again.

There was a question for Archie. "Did the sun go down tonight?" "Maybe no, but it was covered by a cloud. It might blow away, the cloud might," said Archie.

Archie, sitting on a rubbing table in his dressing room at the Sports Arena, thought awhile longer.

There was a glove bruise around the forehead above the left eye. Otherwise he was unmarked.

"Every morning brings a new ray of sunshine, a new ray of hope," he finally observed. "I've had cloudy nights before."

Clay started the old man out in the third round as a turn-away crowd of some 16,200, plus a national closed theater circuit audience, watched.

Clay had Archie groggy and backed onto the ropes near Clay's corner.

Archie managed to last the round. But when the bell brought on the fourth—Clay's much publicized timetable for the end—it was evident that Archie was near the end of his astonishing string of years in the ring.

Perhaps it was a left hook that started the final downfall. Referee Tommy Hart later said there was no one punch, just a lot of them that smashed through Archie's tired, weakened defense.

Archie went down three times. The first two went for counts of eight. The first time, left Archie almost standing on his head as he tried to regain his feet.

The second time Archie took the count on the seat of his pants, his left leg bent at the knee.

On the final trip down, the count had reached four. But the referee was paying no attention. He had already moved in to stop the match.

Saturday May Prove Fatal to Few Teams

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Saturday may well prove the day of judgment for several of the nation's college football elite.

Sprinkled across the land from the South to the Midlands and fanning out to the West Coast, talented teams face the task of making an indelible impression in the mad scramble for lucrative post-season bowl invitations.

Alabama, ranked No. 1, battles an old and sometimes troublesome foe in Georgia Tech, twice beaten and once tied, at Atlanta.

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide hasn't yielded more than seven points to any opponent in carving an 8-0 record but had some anxious moments before conquering comparatively weak Vanderbilt and Houston.

An unbeaten season would assure Alabama of the Southeastern Conference crown and a Sugar Bowl invitation regardless of what happens to third-ranked Mississippi, likewise unbeaten and untied. Southern California, ranked No. 2 and only other undefeated-untied team in the Top Ten, is host to a Navy team which has shown occasional signs of brilliance.

The Trojans have assured themselves already of a tie for the conference title and are almost certain to play the Big Ten representative in the Rose Bowl come New Year's afternoon.

Mississippi collides with Tennessee at Knoxville and will be meeting a squad of Volunteers which hasn't fared too well. The Vols lost their first four games, including a 27-7 licking by Alabama, but have won their last three. If Old Miss continues its winning ways, the Rebels are ticketed for either the Sugar or Cotton Bowl.

Fourth-rated Wisconsin, beaten three weeks ago by Ohio State, meets improving Illinois at Champaign. This one might have been regarded as a pushover for the Badgers early in the campaign, but Illinois surprised even itself Nov. 3 by upsetting Purdue and would like to salvage a little more glory by knocking off Wisconsin.

Wisconsin is in a running battle with Northwestern, No. 9, for the Rose Bowl trip even though the Badgers clobbered the Wildcats last weekend 37-6.

Unbeaten Texas, No. 5, tied by Rice, engages Texas Christian at Fort Worth and should continue its march to the Southwest Conference championship and the Cotton Bowl.

Independents Nip Laneburg 126 to 77

Hope Independents basketball team racked up Laneburg Independents last night by a lopsided score of 126 to 77.

Glen Calhoun with 36 and Brent Odom with 35, led the Hope scorers. Wayne Lee made 20, David Brown 22 and Larry Bruce 11. Billy Mitchell is a member of the Hope group. Charles Jones was high for Laneburg with 28.
